Welcome to Sharp

Sharp has been manufacturing fast, reliable printers and MFPs - and devising new, more productive ways of managing documents - for decades. Many have won awards from respected independent research establishments. All have delivered class-leading performance, often transforming productivity in the workplace.

Sharp is a truly global company with local representation in all major countries. And our expertise now extends far beyond the realm of office printing. Today we address the needs of the whole enterprise, with innovations in LCDs, laser diodes, flash memory, solar cells, plasmacluster air purifiers, and projectors, to name just a few.
